

Tribute to Labor

Labor! What potency in this word, no sound of deeper import ever echoed through the corridors of the evolving ages. It began with the Divine will who fashioned the world and placed the constellations in their prescribed orbits. It will not end when these revert back to chaotic dust. It reared thrones and subverted them. Dynasties were of their forming. Sovereigns courted its pleasure and trembled at its displeasure. It transformed impenetrable thickets into stately castles, obscure villages into flourishing cities, imposing spires now replace the towering pines, and wanton palaces invade the domain of the sylphs. Along the trail of the miasma lurk flash speeding chariots. The fabled dolphins, the sway of the trident are no more, but floating palaces glide over and dominate the main. Labor beautified the world, with the treasures of earth's deep recesses, spurned by research and with indefatigable zeal it charted the heavens and linked continents. Genius would lie dormant, energies stagnate, but for the patterned ideals from the loom of labor. Brain and Brawn are inseparable, the multifarious phases of imperishable art, the vast legacy of Lay and Lore, are monumental columns of Labor's ancient regime, mental and manual. Inspiration is but the envoy from the throne of the macrocosm to the throne below—Labor, the pillar of this throne.

D. EDELSTEIN.

Las Cruces, N. M., Sept. 5.—Tomorrow will be the big day and the final windup of the campaign to elect constitutional delegates. The polls in Las Cruces and Dona Ana county will open at 9 o'clock in the morning and close at 6 o'clock in the evening. All saloons have been ordered to close their doors while the polls are open. The present campaign has been the most bitter one in the history of the county, featuring running very high on both sides, and each claiming a victory.

The Republican party held a meeting at the armory Saturday evening, attended by a good crowd. The principal speech was made by E. C. Abbott of Santa Fe, while H. O. Bursum of Socorro followed. The Las Cruces band furnished music for the occasion.

DYNAMITE WRECKS NON-UNION PLANT

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 5.—The Lucas Bridge and Iron company's large plant in this city was completely wrecked by dynamite last night at 10:30. Three terrific explosions reduced the plant to ruins, and six other buildings, including three saloons, were wrecked.

Robert Gebhardt, a night watchman, was seriously injured, and was rushed to the hospital.

Dynamite appeared again at midnight, when two carloads of steel girders lying in the yards of East Peoria were completely demolished by the explosion. The cars had just arrived from the Pittsburgh steel works and were to be used on the Peoria and Pekin union bridge now being constructed. The Pittsburgh company is a non-union concern.

The Peoria and Pekin union has offered a reward of $2000 for the arrest of any of the dynamiters.

The Lucas company has been operating an open shop.

PEARSON COMPANY WILL BUILD PLANING MILL IN EL PASO SOON

W. C. Stewart, chief clerk of the Modern lumber mills says the company is figuring on putting in a big planing mill in El Paso as soon as things can be arranged satisfactorily.

It will be about six months before the railroad is completed from Pearson to Modern on account of it being necessary to complete the big tunnel through the mountains, says Mr. Stewart. Meanwhile forces of men are busily engaged in grading the roadbeds on each side of the tunnel, so that when the latter is completed it will be short work laying the steel.

Mr. Stewart and wife are at the Zeiger.
